"... local versions in more than 91 countries... 80 different languages... covering 95% of the Internet population."

That means that when someone sees a video play button on your website... they click it... because that's what they do over 5 billion times a day... they've been psychologically conditioned to click the play button... just like Pavlov's dog...

So, if you want someone to click a display ad on your website... make the ad look like a video...

Here's what I'm talking about...

Always Be Testing Tips

- Test different ads for the same products...
 - Different designs, different calls to action, different types of ads.
- Test different products on the same website...
- Test different placements on the same website...
- Test different Affiliate Programs on the same website.
 - One of my Survival blogs makes up to ten times more money from Clickbank offers than it does from AdSense or Amazon.
 - However, I have other websites that have made more from AdSense and Amazon.
 - Seasonal factors should also be considered... during the big holiday selling seasons Amazon sales spike and they could easily become your best performing offers... Mother's Day, Halloween, Christmas... and even big-screen TVs for the Super Bowl!

When I first started marketing online back in 2003 I was exclusively promoting products as an Affiliate...

One of the first things I did was build a couple of Affiliate Blogs promoting several different ebay info-products on Clickbank...

I also slapped-on a few Google Adsense ads in the hopes of making some extra money...

I quickly discovered that I was making significantly more money per visitor with adsense than I was with Cilckbank...

So, I quickly switched gears and I started building blogs that targeted some of the highest paying keywords for adsense...

Within a couple of months I was earning between three thousand and five thousand dollars a DAY in adsense profits...

At that same time I also ramped-up building my portfolio of niche blogs to the point where I was earning approximately $23,000.00 a month as a Clickbank affiliate promoting cheap little ebooks in multiple niches including ebay, dog training, dating advice, and many others...

I also started playing around with building-out an entire network of websites promoting Amazon affiliate products...

I did $454,096.78 in Amazon Affiliate sales
my first 96 Days...

I made one HUGE mistake when I was making all that hands-free money with my Affiliate websites...

The mistake I made was that I was promoting lower-priced products...

I quickly realized that it takes as much time, energy and effort to promote a low priced product as it does to promote a high priced product...

Higher-priced products typically pay up to 100%... even 200% commissions upfront... vs. the 5% or 10% commissions that lower-priced products typically pay...

Would you rather go through the trouble of writing a blog post to earn .50 cents promoting a book on Amazon... or, would you rather earn $500 promoting a piece of software or a training program that also offers you the chance to earn even money on the back-end?

Once I switched my business over to promoting higher-priced affiliate products...
I more than tripled the amount of money I was making...

I've earned six figures in as little as a week
more times than I can remember...

Plus, I've earned hundreds of thousands of dollars in bonus checks, gifts and prizes...

I've also won something like 5 or 6 cars for being a top Affiliate... However, I've only kept two of them...

Those bonus prizes and gifts were in addition to the hundreds of thousands of dollars in commissions I earned promoting the products in the first place...

Promoting high-priced affiliate products transformed my business from a steady 5-figure-a-month passive income stream... into a multi-million dollar business that was still able run hands-free for months on end...

I want you to be able to do the same for your family and your business, so...

I have a special bonus for you that will help you learn how to promote higher-priced
Affiliate products... and it's 100% free...
